CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH OBJECTS ARE RECEIVED

The items described on page 2 of this form have been offered to the Computer History Museum ("Museum") as a gift. The owner or authorized agent ("Depositor") will be notified in writing of the approval or acceptance thereof and this receipt shall thereupon become null and void with respect to the whole or part to be acquired by the Museum. If such property is declined by the Museum, the Depositor agrees to take redelivery of the whole or part declined within thirty (30) days after written notification has been transmitted to him or her. If the Depositor does not wish to take redelivery of any part or whole of the items listed on page 2 of this form, s/he must check "NO" and initial the "Return unwanted materials" box located below. If only partial redelivery of the items listed on page 2 is desired, the Depositor must check "YES" in the "Return unwanted materials" box and make any specifications in writing on page 2 of this form. If left blank and/or unchecked, the Museum will assume that the Depositor declines redelivery of all objects left on page 2 and the Museum will dispose of such materials as it sees fit.

The Depositor warrants that s/he is the owner of the object, that the object is not subject to ownership claims of any other person, institution or domestic or foreign governments, and that all applicable domestic and foreign customs and export/import regulations have been complied with. If the Depositor is not the owner of the objects, the Depositor warrants that s/he has full authority to enter into this deposit transaction on behalf of the owner, and the owner is fully bound hereby as the Depositor's principal. The Museum may require written evidence of the Depositor's agency.

Any donor who changes his/her intent to donate any or all items must notify the Museum within 60 days of said intent and must retrieve, or authorize in writing another person to retrieve, those items at his/her cost within 90 days. Any items not claimed within 90 days shall become the property of the Museum and may be disposed of at the discretion of the Museum.

With rare exception, the Computer History Museum will not immediately display a donation and makes no guarantee that your donated artifact(s) will be displayed at any time.

This agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of California and the United States of America.

This form is not a Deed of Gift and does not qualify any Depositor for any Federal Income Tax deduction.
